BroadSource Introduces OneSource Enhancements

OneSource 3.0 optimizes expense tracking and management capabilities

ATLANTA, October 15, 2007 – BroadSource®, Inc. (www.broadsource.com), the leading telecommunications expense management (TEM) company for middle-market enterprises, today introduced feature enhancements to its flagship OneSource solution that optimizes users' abilities to track and manage expenses for superior visibility into and control over their telecommunications spend.

BroadSource's distinct technology software delivered as a service and professional services combination gives companies unparalleled visibility into and control over their communications contracts, services and users.

According to BroadSource CEO Steven Neel, OneSource 3.0 represents customer and operational driven upgrades that expand his company's distinct advantage serving customers that have mid-market telecom spend. Enhancements include:

- Paper Invoice Imaging and Archiving. OneSource users experience greater confidence and convenience within the OneSource Financial module as images of their paper-based telecommunications invoices are now readily available for online viewing, storage and retrieval.
- New Circuit Management Tool. OneSource users are able to manage circuit inventory more efficiently and effectively with advanced reporting, filtering and navigation features.
- New Invoice Workflows. OneSource 3.0 includes new invoice workflow tools that implement more comprehensive checks and balances to deliver the highest quality invoice processing and auditing.

- Enhanced Integration. OneSource 3.0 features enhanced integration with customers' accounts payables and human resources systems for improved efficiencies and reporting.

“OneSource 3.0 represents a milestone achievement for BroadSource and our customers,” said Neel, adding that the solution is seamlessly scaleable within the mid-market. “The new OneSource will deliver unparalleled efficiencies for our customers and vastly improves our ability to support them as they grow.”

BroadSource provides telecommunications expense management tools to middle-market enterprises seeking to increase visibility, enhance operational performance, and gain control over their telecommunications services, providers and equipment so they ultimately save money.
